Panel: Beyond traditional film criticism: creating a successful YouTube channel and Instagram account with cinema-related content

As traditional film criticism continues to transform under the pervasive influence of the Internet, new forms of film-critical and cinephilic expression keep gaining momentum in the online space. Instagram accounts posting film reviews, lists, or trivia, and YouTube channels with cinema-related content, have continuously attracted significant attention from film buffs and specialists, some gathering more than 1 million followers or several hundred thousand views per video. During this panel, the authors of two successful accounts (1,1 million followers on Instagram, a total of 6,6 million views on YouTube) will share practical advice and speak about the benefits and challenges of developing such channels.

Speakers:

- Nicolas Delage, the author of the eponymous YouTube account, <https://www.youtube.com/@NicolasDelage> (TBC)
- Jovan Vasiljević, the author of the Instagram account cinematologist, https://www.instagram.com/cinematologist_

Moderator:

Nikola Radić, film critic, editor-in-chief of Filmoskopija
